3. CITY COMMISSION REPORTS

a. Vice Mayor Bolton (Part 1 of 2)

Vice Mayor Bolton stated he had a meeting with Representative Anika Omphroy to discuss racial equity, racism, and police brutality. Bolton stated Juneteenth was a few days ago, and he had a meeting with the Broward Black Elected Officials and discussed the importance of Juneteenth and the state of Black Broward. Bolton stated he spent the day educating the community about the history of Juneteenth. Bolton concluded with asking the residents to check out his Facebook page at Facebook.com/commissionermarlonbolton. His cell is 954-275-3850 or the office at 957-597-3463.

b. Commissioner Gelin

Commissioner Gelin stated over the last few weeks he attended the Taravella, Boyd Anderson [high schools] drive-by graduations. The students and elected officials did as much as they could to embrace and celebrate the graduation. People did the most they could out of a difficult, non-traditional graduation. I will continue to be available by cell phone and email. Gelin stated he wanted to express his disappointment in this Commission for not signing on to the Resolution Denouncing White Supremacy because it was affiliated with the Trump administration. Gelin stated everyone has heard that Facebook banned some ads because they were racist and offensive to the Jewish community. If Mark Zuckerberg, of Facebook, embraced the same stance as Tamarac by saying I don't want to be political, then he would have allowed those offensive remarks to remain. Gelin continued stating, that's where this commission needs to be bold, more courageous and call out hatred for what it is. Right now, there are several advertisers that are pulling ads off Facebook until they are more aggressive with removing hate speech from their platform. That is the stance we all need to take, especially as elected officials.

c. Commissioner Fishman

Commissioner Fishman stated she wanted to highlight two cases from the Supreme Court last week. The first is Bostock vs. Clay County [GA] where the Supreme Court ruled people could not be discriminated against based on sex, as defined by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act. It is impossible to discriminate against a person for being homosexual or transgender without discriminating against that individual based on sex. The second is the DACA decision or Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals. This protects our immigrants who came to our country illegally without decision making authority. Fishman read a statement from Hispanic Unity, "We applaud today's Supreme Court decision striking down the current Administration's challenge to end Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) and in doing so, has extended the lifeline that 650,000 law-abiding young people rely on to live and work legally in this country. But we remind everyone DACA was intended as a temporary fix and we call on Congress to act on comprehensive immigration reform." Fishman stated there were a couple County decisions made as well, and the City Attorney will provide in his report.

d. Vice Mayor Bolton (Part 2 of 2)

Vice Mayor Bolton stated he was troubled by what Commissioner Gelin stated in his report that we did not support the Resolution Denouncing White Supremacy. He [Gelin] alluded to that this City is just like Facebook. Bolton stated that both of his [Gelin's] comments are not true. Bolton continued stating we did not take action and the item was tabled by him. Gelin then went on Facebook/social media rampage and distorted what happened and destroyed our reputations by telling people that we did not support his resolution. That is not true. The item was tabled by me because Commissioner Gelin was making it political. We are not Facebook; we are a municipal government. Bolton continued stating he didn't appreciate it, and it was at that same meeting that everyone said Black Lives Matter. Stating that doesn't mean all lives don't matter, it simply means all lives matter, but Black lives must matter for all lives to matter. He understands when someone doesn't feel supported on a matter, but we can't be childish and go off on social media. This doesn't disparage Commissioner Gelin's character, but he missed the mark and send the wrong message to the community. This Commission would approve a resolution denouncing white supremacy, and I do not believe in white supremacy.

Mayor Gomez summarized the actions taken by the Commission at the last meeting, with regarding to the Resolution Denouncing White Supremacy. The item was tabled for six-months, and when it comes back, it will hopefully be in a manner all five of us can approve of because we all denounce white supremacy.

Commissioner Gelin stated if you are going to have a process, you need to be fair about it. I shared the views of the Commission, communicating the vote of an item on social media and I did not express any lies. You guys did not support it, and it was tabled. When it was tabled it for six-months, you effectively killed it. Gelin continued stated that is his view, and he [Bolton] has his view. Our job is to communicate with the people we represent.

e. Commissioner Placko

Commissioner Placko stated that some may have already seen this, but a 22-year-old in Missouri petition Webster's Dictionary to update its definition of racism. The officials have taken it to heart and agreed. Placko continued stating this a young woman who wanted to do something positive. It may be a small step, but we have to take small steps. Her comment was, "I was super happy because I really felt this was step in a good direction, for a lot of positive change for a lot of different positive conversations that can really help change the world and help people see other views." Placko stated that sums it up, and that is what we are trying to do here even though we go about it in different ways and channels. I do truly believe that is what we are trying to here, so let's be part of the positive change. Placko finished stating, residents are amazing. She has spent a lot of time listening, and we have had some driveway graduations. People are doing what they need to do to cope. Are they bored? Of course, but I have listened to how they feel about everything going on in the world. One thing I always do is to end on a position, so I will end by saying thank you.

f. Mayor Gomez

Mayor Gomez stated she wanted to start with a positive, by saying everyone has been working so hard over the past few months with COVID and things that have happened with the unfortunate murder of George Floyd. In the past two weeks, conversations with residents have continued and I have been participating with the White House COVID-19 briefings, US Conference of Mayors, Bloomberg-Harvard Leadership, North Lauderdale/Tamarac Chamber meetings, working with our businesses to try and remind people to still come out to businesses while there still may be fear. We have helped our businesses with masks, signage and working with our community to keep our businesses healthy. Gomez stated she was on a Broward County Mayors call for about 2.5 hours, regarding the new order that will be coming out about enforcement of wearing a face mask, keeping social distance and making sure to keep everyone safe. We don't want to have our businesses start to shut down, and having people staying indoors. Everyone should be taking responsibility to make sure we are staying safe and using precautions. Gomez stated she appreciated everyone who participated in the moment of silence Thursday, June 18. Commissioner Fishman, Deputy Marion, and myself were here at City Hall, and we observed 8:46 (8 minutes, 46 seconds). Some people participated here, and some at home, so I appreciate that. Gomez stated she was able to participate in the Boyd Anderson drive-by graduation with Commissioner Gelin and wished him a happy belated birthday. It's nice to participate in something with joy, for these youngsters, who have had a very different graduation year. Gomez stated, personally for me, the past few weeks have been very emotional for various reasons. I am just going to ask everyone, as Commissioner Placko alluded to, to focus on the positivity. Take a moment every day to take a deep breath and look around you. We are alive and have the fortunate pleasure of being here. We have a great opportunity to do things together as five unified voices in what our mission is. Not political. Not on the left. Not on the right, but in between to help the most important people which is our residents and business owners and our families. I hope that should remain the focus, and I know that is something that I have asked and hoped for. Even at the last Commission meeting. WE also need to make sure that our families, and friends, mental health is good. Go out for a walk or talk to them on the phone. If they need help, get them the professional help they need. Gomez stated she had the pleasure of speaking with Representative Omphroy on Friday night at 6 p.m. with Mayor Stoner, Mayor Hazelle Rogers, and Mayor Ana Ziade for a conversation regarding COVID-19 and resources. More information is listed on our Facebook page.

4. CITY ATTORNEY REPORT

City Attorney Sam Goren stated the Governor did enter an order last evening #20-150 extending virtual meeting provision until Aug. 1, 2020. Bear in mind that is an option for local governments, and the challenge is limitation on the size of the physical gathering. Goren continued stating the County Commission had four items on its agenda last week, and as soon as the City Attorney's Office receives final ballot language it will provide it to staff and the Commission for further review. Finally, Goren stated the City Attorney's Office send a memo June 16, regarding a decision by the 4th District Court of Appeals, which was Haver vs. West Palm Beach. It does apply here in South Florida, and we are reviewing the case and the memo provided is an update in case it does come up in another forum.

Commissioner Fishman asked if the Commission could discuss, at a future date, what the City and Commission could do regarding educating the residents about the County's ballot measures. Goren provided information about advocating versus educating, and stated he will share that information as soon as he receives.

5. CITY MANAGER REPORT
